Sky Vista Consulting has been a miracle worker for Friends of Parkinson's Inc. When we were introduced to them, we were struggling with our website and branding.

In a short period of time, they re-branded the organization, created a website and boosted our social media presence.

Because of their coaching and expertise, we have been able to increase our reach, expand our database and become more visible online. Our Parkinsonian Newsletter is now being read in places around the world. We are able to help more of those affected by Parkinson's disease in more places and with the most current information about their concerns.

We, at Friends of Parkinson's, Inc., are extremely pleased with the services provided by this great group of people.

I have had my business cards done here, both design and print for many years. The customer service experience is five star as always. The designers here obviously know what they do, because I love how my cards come out. I get complements on them as I pass them out. Keep up the great work, and definitely be calling you guys for my next print and design project.
